Eight inch main blows out, threatens water shortage

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Blow-out of an eight-inch water main in Bay St. Louis Wednesday afternoon threatened some 25 households with a lack of water for up to three days and sent emergency crews into action in an effort to ward off the delima.

Late Wednesday, city utility crews expected to have water service restored in the Necaise street - Carroll Avenue area sometime in the early evening hours.

Bay Mayor Larry Bennett said the break probably was caused by a broken sewer line under the water line.

"In the 18 months I have been in office as commissioner and mayor, there have been three sewer breaks, at this location," Bennett lamented.

"This is the first time for the eight inch water line to go - the sewer break undermines the dirt and the water line drops and it pulls apart at the joint,"

Mayor Bennett stated.

"This is one of the reasons I want to have these cave-ins throughout the city repaired as soon as possible," the mayor added.

When the emergency was discovered, all city units were called into action.

Bay police went to the scene immediately to direct traffic. Chief Douglas Williams commented "Some residents seem to ignore the caution signs and even run over many."

"We are going to issue citations to those who do not observe these signs,"

Williams said.

"Whenever city employees are working on these emergencies, they don't have time to worry about traffic, they are trying to restore city services as soon as possible."

"Our job as policemen is to protect all of the citizens, and that includes fellow city employees, they have a job to do and we have the job of protecting their lives," Williams continued.

"Most drivers observe the signs and we appreciate their co-operation," he

Longo lauds park improvement plans

By ELLIS CUEVAS

News from the State Park Commission on the building of over night lodgings at Buccaneer State Park, was greeted with glee by Waveland Mayor John Longo who commented, "It's a great thing for our city and it will be great benefit to the whole Gulf Coast."

"To think just a few years ago the area was nothing but a dump, and look at it today," Longo said.

"We have so many people to thank, including former Gov. William Waller, our own Perry Gibson, Dr. M. L. Dodson and a whole lot of folks who make this park a reality for Waveland," Longo added.

Col. Tom Edwards, executive director of the State Park Commission, said 30 cabins are to be built at the park.

The cabins will be constructed for travelers who do not own self-contained campers or trailers.

Certain streets in the park will need widening to provide water and sewer connections to the cabins, Edwards said.

The state will spend an estimated $600,000 on the cabin project, he added. Buccaneer Park has a $1.4 million wave pool scheduled for May, 1979, completion.

The City of Waveland supplies water, sewerage, garbage, fire and police protection for Buccaneer Park and Mayor Longo commented, "The people who use the Park are very fine tenants, we haven't had any problems with them as temporary citizens."

"I think this is the beginning of more things to come to Buccaneer, like more trailer pads, etc. weekend bring overflowing crowds to the Park," he said. "I think it hasn't helped the business places in Waveland Harbor and Lakeshore, their cash registers have been ringing."

Greg Smith, park superintendent, reports the complex is filled up by Friday evening every weekend, with a 42 percent increase in visitors over last season.

Mayor Longo, in commenting on opposition to the Park before it was constructed, said, "I think most of those have been made believers, when they consider the financial impact Buccaneer has on Waveland and Hancock County."

Flotilla rendezvous scheduled Saturday

Bay St. Louis Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 33 will host an annual Division Rendezvous on Saturday and Sunday. Flotillas from Mobile, Pascagoula, Biloxi, Gulfport, Pass Christian and Diamondhead will join in the rendezvous.

The boats will meet in Bay St. Louis between the bridges at noon Saturday and will be escorted to Diamondhead for festivities which will include a dinner-dance at the Diamondhead Yacht Club. Jackie Bufkin, spokesman for Flotilla 33, said some boats will travel by water and others will arrive on trailers.

BLACKTOPPING MAIN STREET - Williams Paving Company employees are blacktopping Main Street this week. The project should be finished by the end of June "weather permitting," according to Mayor Larry Bennett. "The street is now open only to residents of the area," Bennett noted. ## Clermont octogenarian dies after RR accident

Mrs. Florence S. Foegele, 82, a resident of Clermont Harbor for the past 38 years, died June 15 at Memorial Hospital at Gulfport where she had been confined since a May 15 railroad accident in Clermont Harbor.

Mrs. Foegele, a retired physical therapist, sustained serious injuries when the car she was driving was struck by a Louisville and Nashville Railroad "cribber," a track maintenance unit, at the Clermont Harbor crossing.

The Hancock County Sheriff's office reported that Mrs. Foegele's vehicle was dragged some 80 feet after being struck by the unit which was operated by Wendel V. Rainey 29, of Stator, Ky.

Rainey said he proceeded through the intersection after he had sounded his horn and it appeared the Foegele car would stop, the sheriff reported.

Officers and Mobile Medics worked about 15 minutes to free the victim, who was trapped inside her car.

A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Foegele suffered head injuries, lacerations and abrasion in the accident.

Burial in Gardens of Memory Cemetery in Bay St. Louis followed funeral services at the United Methodist Church in Clermont Harbor where she was a member.

She is survived by a brother, Harold S. Delong of Mather, Wis.

For Bay Little League

Council receptive to Gemelli proposal of second ball park

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis resident Mike Gemelli, a Babe Ruth League umpire, Tuesday presented a proposal to the Bay St. Louis City Council a second Little League Ball Park here.

Gimelli proposed $10,000 as a cost estimate which includes fencing, fill dirt, grass sod, lights, CB help for labor, and a sketch of the playing field. Gemelli conducted a survey on the number of students in the age group which would use the playground for four different operations, tee ball, girls ball, minor league and little league.

"There are 1,300 students in Bay St. Louis schools in the appropriate age range according to school administrators," Gemelli told the Council.

Reasons offered for another Little League Park are crowded conditions at the present park and safety of the children.

"We haven't had any injuries yet at the Little League Park but we have had some close calls," he explained.

"Whenever there is a game being played it takes a total of 30 kids off the streets," he said.

"Juvenile crime is on the increase throughout the country, but if our kids had something to do they wouldn't have time to get into trouble," stated Gemelli.

Council is in agreement on the need of another Little League Park, and were unanimous on a motion to further pursue the project through the Parks and Playgrounds Department and the Bay St. Louis School System which owns the property for the proposed site.

Bay St. Louis Tax Collector Estelle Johnston discussed the problems of collecting taxes due the city, personal and privilege.

Councilman Pete Benvenuti said the Council would back Mrs. Johnston 100 per cent in collecting all monies due the city in taxes. Councilman Fred Wagner supported Benvenuti as did the rest of the Council.

United Way names division leaders, sets goal for '78

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The United Way of Hancock County, in a recent meeting, named division chairmen and assessed the need of more volunteers for the upcoming 1978 campaign.

Wayne Ducomb, Jr. is the 1978 chairman and the goal for the Campaign is $35,000.

Agencies supported by the United Way of Hancock County include Senior Citizens, Retired Senior Volunteer Program, Hancock County Emergency Relief Fund, American Red Cross, Gulf Coast Mental Health, Catholic Social Services, Gulfside Boys' Home, Gulf Pines Council of Girl Scouts, Cypress District of Boy Scouts, Hancock County Blood Bank, Goodwill Industries, Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund, U.S.O. Worldwide.

Division chairmen are Ellis Cuevas and Mary Perkins, public relations; Virginia Wagner, special gifts; Theresa James, direct mail; Norton Haas, industrial division; John Seafide, Jr., professional division; Gus Uram, Bay St. Louis residential division; Jim Hoda and Rene Carver, Klu Klux Klan division; Ed Filoux, Diamondhead; and Mr. and Mrs. William Schaffer, Clermont Harbor area.

Ducomb said there is a need for division chairmen in North Hancock County, Waveland and also for special projects.

"Each division will need at least five volunteers to fill all types of jobs open in the United Way - we can reach our goal, but will need some help," commented Ducomb Wednesday.

COME EXPECTING A MIRACLE

Come with me to Mount Calvary, in the Land of Palestine. I will give you God's dramatic pictures of the awfulness of sin. There on the Cross, JESUS, the Son of GOD suffered indescribable agony. Calvary is the price of sin and the most conclusive proof of the gravity of sin.

Not only does Calvary show the results of sin but also the results of LOVE. Justice required a Sacrifice and God's LOVE provided one. The law required a Lamb without spot or blemish and God provided one - The LAMB OF GOD.

Without the shedding of Blood there is no remission or forgiveness of sin. Jesus shed, gave His very life. His Divine Blood in order for you to be free from all sin. Heb. 9:22, John 3:36.

Soon God will draw the curtain on Calvary and God will allow the world to laugh or mock His Lamb no longer.

The world doesn't know it but mankind is soon to see this Lamb coming in the clouds of Glory to reign as King of Kings.

The haunting question which rides the wings of time is "Will You Be Ready To Meet HIM?"

High school rodeo set this month in Carthage

The 12th Annual Mississippi Championship High School Rodeo begins Tuesday, June 27, and runs through Sunday, July 2.

High school students completing the 9th through 12th grades will compete for prizes of trophies, buckles, and saddle and a chance to represent Mississippi in national finals.

The State Rodeo is co-sponsored by the Mississippi State High School Rodeo Association and the Square County Jaycees.

A first-day meeting of the contestants is set for noon to be followed by one-half round of all events beginning with cutting competition at 5:30 p.m.

The rodeo will begin at 7:30 p.m. nightly with finals at 1 p.m. Sunday including grand entry.

A traditional rodeo parade is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Saturday, July 1. A special worship service is being planned at the Coliseum at 8:30 a.m. Sunday morning. Contestants as well as the general public are invited to participate in the horseback worship services.

The rodeo finals will begin on Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. with the crowning of the rodeo queen. Trophies and awards will be presented at the conclusion.

Last year the state championship rodeo attracted 96 contestants, with between 125 and 135 contestants expected in this year's rodeo.

The top four winners in each event will represent Mississippi in the National High School Rodeo Finals to be held in Huron, S.D.

Snow takes trophy in DWGA meet

Ida Mae Snow was Trophy Day winner in the Diamondhead Women's Golf Association's weekly meet Thursday at Diamondhead.

In the event for the day, Blind Bogey, Iva May McDonald placed first, Peg Murray claimed second, and Joe DeBever rounded out the top three.

Louise Smith hit low putt over the field while Snow came closest to the pin of the number 13 hole.

STATE VIOLATIONS

A Mississippi State University scholarship to Carey Kelly, a six-foot-eight forward, has been revoked by the NCAA Southeastern Conference due to recruiting violations. The Canton basketball player was visited more than three times by former basketball coach Ron Greene and his successor.

BABE RUTH BASEBALL

By Mark McCarthy

Joe Gex and Bruce Cabell combined for a 5-hitter Sunday as Rotary Club defeated Coast Electric 10-4 in the opener of the second-half of Babe Ruth play at Tiger Field.

Rotary had mounted a 7-1 lead before Coast Electric came to life with a 3-run sixth. Hopes for an upset were snuffed out, though, when Rotary tallied three in the same inning, making a winner out of Cabell, 1-0.

Perre Cabell and Mark Smith each connected for two hits to pace the attack. Bobby Richardson was handed his fourth loss of the season against one victory, getting last-inning help from Joe Bye.

Richardson was the biggest contributor to his cause, going 2-for-4 and scoring two of the four runs.

American Legion erupted for six runs in both the fourth and fifth innings to post an easy 17-4 victory over Dixie Realty. Dixie Realty was within striking distance after three, trailing by a 5-3 score before the Legion offense exploded for eight of its fourteen hits.

Kelly Geroux chalked up the win, taking over for starter Steve Seymour after three frames. Melvin Barnes had a perfect day with three hits and 5 RBI's while Brock Godwin, David Strong, and Gary Seeger rapped out two safeties apiece to round out the Legion bombardment.

Jeff Kergosien, 1-3, absorbed the loss, but picked two Legion runners off first base in crucial situations, for Dixie's long highlight. Jerry Favre also doubled to pace the slumping offense.

Chasez Construction rallied for three runs in the top of the 7th and held off a Dixie Realty threat to hang on to a 9-8 victory Thursday. With the score knotted at 6-6, two walks and two hits produced three

Lang inspires fifth inning Gang rally

Darell Lang sparked a three-run fifth inning with a line drive and some fast footwork for a score to give the Over the Hill Gang a 9-7 victory over the Red Machine Monday at Commagere Field in the Men's City Softball League.

The Red Machine scored five runs in the first inning to four runs for the Over the Hill Gang. The Gang retaliated with two runs in the third to edge out front.

Lang opened the top of the fifth with his solitary score. Two more came home for the Gang in overthrows at first base to give them a 9-5 lead.

The Red Machine rallied in the bottom of the seventh, gathering momentum with one run and a score by Robert Henry on a sacrifice fly. But the Machine was stopped by a high fly for the third out.

Elmo Jacob, leading the League in home runs with nine, socked another one for the Red Machine in the first inning.

Harry Farve, pitching for the Over the Hill Gang, and Lang are leading hitters for the Gang with matching .333 records.

Riemann's won the first round championship of the Bay St. Louis Little League Saturday by defeating Fahey's, 8-4, in a make-up game.

A win by Fahey's would have resulted in a three-way tie for the first round title.

The story was the same as it has been all season for Riemann's - another victory off the pitching of Ronnie Lyons and the hitting of Mike Ladner and Dale Crays.

Lyons won his seventh game of the season against no defeats. Riemann's scored three runs in the first inning, three in the third, and two in the fourth.

Fahey's scored three runs in the fourth inning but Lyons came on strong to retire the last nine batters in a row. Lyons and Crays combined for five hits for Riemann's while Ladner scored three times.

Half-way through the second round, Riemann's has assumed a one game lead over Fahey's, Gulf National, and American Legion, while Hancock Bank trails by one and one half games.

The big story of the second round has been Riemann's ability to win without using pitching ace Ronnie Lyons.

Crays and David Pitolo combined for two wins last week to put Riemann's in first place.

Ladner leads the race for the batting title for the sixth consecutive week.

Ladner has been challenged several times for the lead this season by Freddie (the Stick) Wilkerson. Both were once tied at .500. Ladner currently is facing two strong challenges from Chris Crowder and teammate Crays.

Lyons has amassed a huge lead for the pitching championship. He has won seven games this season and has yet to be defeated. No pitcher has ever recorded an 8-0 card in Bay St. Louis Little League history.

The only two pitchers with an outside shot of overtaking Lyons for the title is Gary (Pinball) Byrd and Jeff Smith. Smith is the 10-year old pitching sensation of Hancock Bank who at nine, led last year's 9-10 year old All Star team to the state championship.

This year's season will conclude on Friday, June 30th. A play-off game will be scheduled between the first and second round winners.

Duck season extension disapproved

Hancock county duck hunters will not be allowed to duck hunt this year past January 20, and they will not be allowed to shoot wood ducks during the regular September teal season, as requested earlier this year through the Mississippi Flyway Council.

Hunters had petitioned the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service through the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission and other groups to extend the date on duck season from usual January 20 closing until January 31 of each year.

The Service proposes to take no action at this time on the suggested changes because such changes would have broad management implications for all states and would have to be dealt with on that basis.

The MGFC and other southern states within the Flyway Council also recommended that two wood ducks, in addition to the basic daily bag limit of four teal, be allowed during the nine day special September teal season.

"Our law enforcement people feel that allowing both wood ducks and teal would help hunters identify the right birds, and no doubt prevent some folks from receiving citations," explained Joe Stone Game and Fish Executive Director.

AAU BASKETBALL
Hancock Bank, a reincarnation of Gulfport High School's varsity team, claimed the championship of the Southern AAU basketball tournament Saturday night at the Herbert Wilson Recreation Center in Gulfport with a 96-91 win over Bankston Kingsmen, Gulfport's all-stars. In the semi-finals, Hancock Bank defeated Merchants Bank (the Hancock North Central Prep team), 69-59.

MSU basketball highlights

SEC tournament

Mississippi State University will be making its first appearance in the Southeastern Conference Basketball Tournament since the tourney was done away with in post-season 1951-52, according to its 1978-79 schedule announced by Boy Tyler, director of athletics.

The Bulldogs, under first-year Coach Jim Hatfield, have slated 26 regular-season games including an 8-game series with Memphis State. Mississippi State will also face Iowa State of the Big Eight Conference for the first time. It will be Mississippi State's first contest with a Big Eight member since meeting Missouri in the 1974 Show Me Classic.

The State team, which finished 18-9 in second place in the SEC behind national champion Kentucky, will be appearing for the first time in the Louisville Classic, opposing host Louisville, Oral Roberts, and Big Ten representative Wisconsin. Rounding out the set will be 13 on campus games, one in Jackson, and the Southeastern Conference finale at Birmingham's Civic Center.

Lagarde punches tennis ticket to Southern regional

Lis Lagarde of Bay St. Louis was the only girl on the Gulf Coast to qualify in Mississippi matches, of the Southern Closed Tennis Tournaments held recently in Jackson.

Lagarde placed in the top four in the girls 18 division, securing a spot in the Southern Closed contest in Nashville, Tenn., later this month.

Among twenty other Coast competitors: Tommy and Pat Wild, Priscilla Snow, Brooke and Guy Shapter and Kim Furman also participated in the state matches.

Qualifying from the Coast were Jeff Alexander and Danny Olsen from Long Beach, Steven Carter from Ocean Springs, and David Faust from Pascagoula.

The 1910 women's softball team of Bay St. Louis claimed third place in the Alley Kats Invitational Tournament last weekend at the VFW Field in Saucier, taking four straight victories before losing to Ford Standard in the semi-finals.

1910, made up of women ages 15 and up, opened the tourney with a 9-7 win over Pineville Friday. Saturday, they crushed Bond's Misfits, 14-0. In Sunday's action, 1910 rolled over C.P.O., 10-5, and Culey's Angels, 14-4, before dropping behind Ford Standard, 4-9.

The team, coached by Revette Shaw and Joey Shaw, is drawn largely from Pass Christian and Dedeaux Community. Members include Sharon DuBuisson, Gina Garriga, Kim Garriga, Janet Ladner, Shannon Lader, Sharon Ladner, Sheila Ladner, Susan Ladner, Bertie Faye Necaise, Rhonda Necaise, Lori Stewart and Debbie White.

This weekend's schedule includes tournament play at Dedeaux Field opening Friday evening. The women's games will be played in conjunction with a men's tourney which begins at 8:30 p.m. with a match featuring the Crane Creek men's team.

DOVE BOUNDARIES

More Mississippi dove hunters are expected to take advantage of the state's first bird season due to boundary changes affecting the September dove season. The new boundary between the north and south zones will be U.S. Highway 84, extending from Natchez east to the Alabama line, 70 miles south of the former boundary of Highways 12 and 14.

Taking the bull by the horns

Mike Gemelli, Babe Ruth umpire, has taken the "bull" by the horns in his efforts to build another Little League ball park in Bay St. Louis.

Gemelli didn't just chat with a few folks about his idea - he did the necessary ground work and sought help from many. He had preliminary plans drawn up which he delivered to Bay City Council Tuesday.

Now folks, this is getting involved - the kind of thing we were talking about in our editorial last week. Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County need more people with this kind of drive. A person doesn't have to be elected to help his community.

When Bay St. Louis gets its second Little League park, the only name for it will be "Mike Gemelli Little League Park."

Hats off to Gemelli; - we hope to see more like him.

Washington report

By Trent Lott

Voters in California really know how to express their frustration. They spoke with a clear voice in approving Proposition 13, a sweeping reduction in their property tax assessments, and their voice is echoing across the country.

State officials in California and federal officials in Washington should now understand the message many conservatives in Congress have been trying to get across for years.

The people of this country are simply fed up with being taxed to death and they're proving it with action, not talk.

Caught up in the national frenzy of reducing the cost of government by decreasing taxes was the Fiscal Year 1979 appropriations bill considered by the House last week for the U.S. Department of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare. Apparently in response to the message of Proposition 13, the House voted to slash more than $1 billion from the budgets of those two huge departments.

One Member of Congress, who supported the cut-back, argued that the budget of HEW for one year was more than the budgets of all 50 states combined. Add to that staggering piece of information the alarming growth of the HEW budget over the past few years and you have the primary reasons I supported the cut-back.

But California wasn't the only state where proposed new taxes bit the dust.

Voters in Cleveland and Columbus, Ohio, also rejected new tax levies that educators said were necessary to keep their schools running next year.

In fact, all across the country, the frustration people feel with the tax burden their government has forced them to bear is showing up at the ballot box.

I think it's a good, healthy sign that the people who pay the bills are tired of being ignored by their elected officials. They want action, even if they have to vote against taxes to prove it.

I hope Congress takes a lesson from Proposition 13 and similar tax issues. Maybe an indication that Congress will be more responsive and fiscally responsible came when the House eliminated that billion dollars from the Labor-HEW appropriations.

Reportedly, some 26 states are considering various types of tax reductions of their own and it will quickly become a political liability to continue supporting free-wheeling, big-spending "big brother" government programs. It's obvious that the people don't like "big brother" any more than you and I thought they did.

As this national movement gains momentum, you can expect that the American public will be keeping an even closer eye on the spendthrifts in government, and the officials who don't listen may not be officials much longer.

Health and Safety

From the American Medical Association

Poison ivy season is here again. You may have handled poison ivy last year and escaped without an itch, but don't push your luck.

No one is permanently immune to poison ivy, oak or sumac, the American Medical Association reminds.

Your next meeting with this pesky plant could take place in your own yard, as well as in the woods and fields. Poison ivy, oak and sumac have appeared in city gardens. Poison ivy sometimes forms a beautiful vine up the side of a house. Poisonous oils from these plants can come your way in the smoke of a neighbor's trash fire, or on your dog's coat.

If you can detect poison plants, you can often avoid them. Poison ivy and its close kin, poison oak, are three-leaved plants which may grow as low bushes or climbing vines. They may be mixed with honeysuckle and other climbers. Poison sumac, an eastern swamp plant with seven to thirteen leaflets and small white berries, usually grows as a shrub.

If you have been exposed, carefully remove your clothes and thoroughly wash all affected areas with warm water and soap. Sponge with a 50 to 70 per cent alcohol solution. Using rubber gloves, clean your clothes in an oil solvent and soapy water. Dry them in the sun.

Ivy, oak and sumac poisoning start with itching and redness within a few hours to several days after exposure. Watery pimples appear. There is no cure for the big itch. Wet dressings of boric acid or Epsom salts solution bring some relief. Calamine lotion reduces itching. If the inflammation is extensive, see your physician.

If you know that you will be near poison plants or working with them, have your druggists make a 10 per cent sodium perborate ointment and apply on exposed skin. After contact with the plant, wash off ointment and scrub all clothing—even shoelaces.

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY

Associate Professor of Journalism University of Mississippi

Several local retail stores are taking to the "tube." Do they know something I don't? Don't Want To Get Behind.

Dear DWTOB: They may think they do, but several studies say "no." A recent study found 65% of shoppers were influenced by newspaper ads as opposed to 15% who said they were influenced by tv.

An advertising and sales promotion consultant, Herbert Greenwald, told a recent seminar of the Nat'l Retail Merchant's Assn. in New York that Sears had conducted a similar study and got the same result.

The study he presented was conducted in a Southern city with 1200 shoppers. He declined to name the city or the store, but he said, the percentages point out the importance of newspapers to retailers.

He stressed the need to give care and attention to small space ads, pointing out many are not effective.

Position in the paper isn't too important, he said, but the construction of the ad is. He suggested using white space to keep ads from being cluttered and to use border to separate ads from others.

On position, he said: If you have a bad ad, one that is confusing, it won't matter whether you're up front or not. A good ad in the back of the newspaper will sell better than a bad ad up front.

He said many times the effort goes to larger ads, which probably could get by with less attention. Thus the smaller ad effort suffers.

Back to tv, he said Sears cut back on the medium when their study found newspaper to be more effective.

A media mix isn't always bad, but the newspaper probably will continue as the most economical.

Production for tv is expensive, if it is local and of real interest. The lesser the amount spent on production, generally, the less effective the ad will be.

This is not always true in the top dollar market, but at the local level it is a general maxim.

So spend on tv if you wish, but don't lose sight of newspaper as your major vehicle.

added. Bay Fire Chief Richard Fayard got out the blue prints and made an immediate inspection with the fireman on duty of all fire plugs in the area.

"We made sure we knew where every live fire hydrant was and we set up a plan to fight any fire which may have developed in the area," Fayard said.

"Fire hydrants were at the back of the streets where the water was out," he added.

"Our two fire trucks carry 500 gallons of water each, so in case of a fire we have an immediate supply of water," the chief explained.

"Every home in the area was covered by a substitute fire hydrant, and we prepared because water could have been down for two or three days and we didn't know until Utility crews were able to reach the break," Fayard continued. "Incidentally, we are asking all citizens to be very careful with fires, especially since we have had this dry spell," he warned.

"The Fire Department isn't going to issue any burning permits until further notice," Fayard said.

Bill Johnson, superintendent of utilities, said about 25 residences were affected by the eight-inch main line break.

"This was the third main line we have had break during the past three months," he noted, adding "whenever the support under the water lines wash out by sewer breaks, the water lines stand a chance of blowing out."

Roger Sprouse, utilities foreman, said late Wednesday there were three holes in the water main and an eight foot section of pipe had to be replaced. Water was to be turned back on before dark, according to Sprouse.

Louis Fernandez, sanitation officer for Hancock County, suggested residents suffering from a lack of water be very cautious with containers used in carrying water.

"If you use plastic milk cartons, wash them out good with soap and water," Fernandez said, "then fill the jugs with water and add a couple drops of household bleach, and let set a few minutes."

Then rinse the jugs very well before using for drinking and cooking water," he warned.

"Milk has a lot of bacteria and milk containers have to be properly cleaned before re-use," Fernandez continued.

"Whenever there is a water line break it is also a good idea to flush your water lines out good before use. All you have to do is let each faucet run for a couple minutes," the health official advised.

CAREER EDUCATION

Dr. Kenneth Hoyt, the father of the country's new "Career Education" movement, was in Mississippi a few days ago to talk about new directions in education.

He made it clear that "Career Education" is neither a new system of education nor an addition to the present education system but, rather, an "infusion" of free enterprise principles into our present education process.

Simply stated, said Dr. Hoyt, the purpose behind the "Career Education" movement is to build a new respect among Americans for work and for education.

Greater respect for work and for education - and greater appreciation for the values of work and education - are worthwhile goals.

A recognized leader in the field of education, Dr. Hoyt impresses those who hear him that he is, first, an educator; and, then, a Washington bureaucrat. He is, in fact, the director of the Office of Career Education in the Office of Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

In his address to a Career Education Conference at Mississippi College, he suggested as new directions for education the need for greater accountability within the classroom; the

Bay Jaycees find location for new home

By Ellis Cuevas

The Bay St. Louis Jaycees have purchased a parcel of land on St. John St., according to Wayne Ducomb, spokesman for the Organization.

The Jaycees are now clearing the property which backs up the Coast Electric Power Association's maintenance building. The Jaycees had purchased some land outside the city limits several months ago to build a Youth Center and neighbors in the immediate area objected to the location.

The organization found this land available and "all the neighbors were contacted and are in agreement with the Jaycees' plans," said Ducomb.

The type of construction is now under study by the Jaycees and we are in the process of clearing the land," stated Ducomb.

The new president of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees is Steve Dawbert.

Pass mayor victim of Father's Day accident

BY DEE KACHLER

Pass Christian Mayor Zach Anthony is "adjusting to his inconvenience" after being released from Memorial Hospital, Gulfport Tuesday afternoon, where he was treated for a broken bone in his left shoulder, a hospital spokesman said.

The mayor was admitted to the hospital Sunday evening after suffering a fall on the seawall steps as he was leaving the Pass Christian beach near Espy Ave., friends reported.

Anthony, who was at a Father's Day picnic with his wife and children, was ascending the last step of the seawall when the accident occurred.

"It all happened so quickly," Mrs.

Anthony said, "I couldn't see exactly what happened," but she added that sand had accumulated "in heavy patches" on the steps during the day.

When the mayor lost his footing, she said, he twisted his body to avoid hitting his head on the bumper of his car. His left shoulder then hit the car as he fell forward.

The mayor is now "inconvenienced" with an L-shaped cast extending from his wrist to upper arm.

Doctors estimate the cast will stay on six to eight weeks.

"We are not sure when he will return to the mayor's office," Mrs. Anthony said, "so in the meantime he is running City Hall from his bed."

Sheriff's Deputies Robert Weat. erby and Victor Clark reported that Dubuisson was dead at 6:20 a.m. when they arrived at the scene.

The accident is still under investigation but an investigator at the sheriff's office speculated that Dubuisson may have suffered a heart attack or some other type of physical ailment just prior to the accident.

Dubuisson was pronounced dead on the scene of injuries which included a fractured skull and neck and a crushed chest, according to Harrison County Coroner Edgar Little Jr.

Dubuisson, who was alone at the time of the accident, was going to work to pick up his crew, Supervisor Billy McDonald said.

The victim had been a county employee for three years and was a life long resident of Harrison County.

A prayer service today, Thursday, at 2 p.m. is to be at the Riemann Funeral Home Chapel in Pass Christian. Burial will follow in Rotten Bayou Cemetery in Hancock County.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Juanita McGill Dubuisson; a son, Ray Dubuisson; a daughter, Donna Dubuisson; and a brother Wilfred Dubuisson, all of Pass Christian.

Superintendent of Schools J.D. McCullough requested the City to convey the school district the old firehouse on Ulman Avenue and small building in the rear.

Mayor Larry Bennett stated he has promised the building to the Junior Auxiliary.

After a lengthy discussion, it was decided that City attorney Joseph Gex, and the mayor check with McCullough to determine school needs.

Council was unanimous in supporting Joseph Marochino and Don Favre to the Planning and Zoning Board to replace Sheldon Seuzeneau and Louis Fernandez.

Luke Sciana was re-appointed to the Housing Authority and Kelly McQueen was named head of the accounting department.

Bennet read a proposal from Engineers Broadway and Seal on the seeking of federal grants for water sewer, and streets.

Council requested Bennet get a fixed figure from the firm.

Councilman Fred Wagner commented, "We've got a horrendous bill right now staring us in the face from Burk and Associates that apparently, as best as I can tell, is just as legal and binding as can be."

"We got into the trap because we didn't know what we were getting and we didn't know what we were paying," Wagner added.

Broadway and Seal offered to prepare the documents and if they didn't get any funds it would cost the city nothing, if they were successful, a five to 10 per cent of the amount would be their fee.

Councilman Pete Benvenuti said, "I go along with Broadway and Seal doing the job, submitting the application, but the firm should be paid a few dollars for services rendered."

If the firm wanted to enter an agreement when the funds are approved for the project, Benvenuti said, "then we would be free to negotiate with them or any other engineering firm to do the work."

The bill Burk and Associates have presented the city is in the neighborhood of $35,000. According to reports, a little of it goes back to the old administration with most of the fees being charged on the Main Street project, the abandoned overpass, sewer work for a new business on US-90 and the new sewer work in the Suebe Street area.

Work resumption nears on GCRL research boat.

The Gulf Coast Research Laboratory has approved a naval architects' plans for completion work on the Sail On, a 90-foot oceanographic research vessel which has been under construction for three and a half years.

Other GCRL Research vessels are currently seen periodically on Bay St. Louis in connection with a base line ecology study of the Bay being conducted by GCRL for the DuPont Company which is building a pigment plant at DeLisle.

Dr. Harold D. Howse, director of the Laboratory, has recommended that the State Building Commission proceed to advertise the Sail On completion project and obtain bids for a construction contract.

After examining the plans and specifications, Dr. Robert A. Woodmansee, who is in charge of the vessel project for the laboratory, said he is satisfied with the plans.

Woodmansee said it is now up to the State Building Commission to inform prospective bidders how they may obtain copies of the plans for study and to set the bonding requirements for contractors.

The steel hull of the unfinished vessel has been stored at Misener Shipyard in Tampa, Fla., since another Tampa shipbuilder halted work, defaulting on his contract to construct the vessel.

The Houston firm of Shuller and Allan, Naval architects, was hired by the Building Commission to assess the condition of the hull and draw up plans and specifications for completing the vessel.

In the meantime, the U.S. Navy, through Rear Admiral J. Edward Snyder Jr., oceanographer of the Navy, has arranged to provide a vessel for the laboratory to utilize.

Until recently, the Navy vessel was in the mothball fleet near Norfolk, Va. It is a 50-foot former Navy assault support patrol boat, the kind used to patrol rivers during the Vietnam conflict.

Providing the speed required by such boats are two 500-horsepower diesel engines that the laboratory plans to have removed from the patrol boat and installed in the Sail On. The engines in the patrol boat appear to be in good condition. "If a considerable amount of overhauling is needed, it might not be feasible to use the engines in the Sail On; however, we can use the Navy patrol boat for other purposes," Dr. Woodmansee said. "It could make a fair replacement for the Hermes," he added.

The Hermes is a 40-foot steel trawler which serves the Lab's academic program as a teaching boat. When not needed for that purpose, Hermes may be hired by college field trip groups to make collecting cruises and visits to offshore islands.

From the Norfolk storage area, the patrol boat was barged via the inland waterway to Fort Myers, Fla., then to Litton's Ingalls Shipyard in Pascagoula.

A shipyard crane lifted the boat from the barge and put it in the water at dockside.

Capt. Pat Ladner, skipper of the Lab's present research vessel, Gulf Researcher, and crewman Ralph Boney made structural checks, pumped water out of the hold and examined the hull for watertightness.

Then the boat was towed by the Researcher and the Hermes to the small craft dock on the Laboratory campus in Ocean Springs.

SUCCESSFUL TEST FIRING - A space shuttle main propulsion test unit was successfully fired last Thursday at NASA-NSTL for its longest duration to date - a programmed 38 seconds. The engines achieved 90 percent of the rated power level. NASA officials were pleased with the results of the test and a complete analysis of the data is now under way. This was the third in a series of up to 15 tests scheduled on the space shuttle orbiter main propulsion system at NSTL leading up to the first manned flight in 1979.

Bay Parks programs still open

Registration remains open for Bay St. Louis Parks and Playground Department programs.

Tee-ball, girl's minor league softball, boy's minor league baseball, arts and crafts, and tennis are being offered this summer.

Tennis practice is Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 6 to 10 a.m. for children ages 7 to 12 at the Bay High tennis courts.

Arts and crafts for 7-12-year-olds is Monday, Wednesday and Friday and Tuesday and Thursday for 5-6 year-olds.

This program is located at the Parks and Playgrounds office in the Valena C. Jones Building on Old Spanish Trail.

Practice for tee ball and boy's minor league baseball is Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 6 to 11 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday for girls' minor league softball, with practice at the McDonald Little League Park.

For further information on these programs, call the Parks and Playground's Office at 467-6440.

First reunion to be 50th

Bay St. Louis High School's Class of 1928 will hold its first reunion this year, the 50th anniversary of graduation, on June 30th in Bay St. Louis, time and place to be announced later.

Members interested are asked to contact Miss Barbara A. Sick, 315 Leonhard Avenue, Bay St. Louis, 39520. Let's make this Golden Reunion a success.

Honored guests will be wives and husbands of class members, class sponsor, Miss Olga Terberne of New Orleans, La., and Birdwell Adam, Gulfport.

Who's new?

The workshops, sponsored by the Ole Miss School of Pharmacy's Bureau of Pharmaceutical Services, will cover a variety of topics.

PATROL CARS FOR SHERIFF - Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr., center, accepts papers for two new patrol cars from Chester Blalock, director of the Governor's Highway Safety Program. Supervisor James Travira, of Hancock County, left; Michael Haas, governor's county co-ordinator; and Les Nucombe, executive director, Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District, were on hand Friday for the official signing of the paper work at the Hancock Courthouse. Hancock County will share costs 50-50 with the Governor's Highway Safety Program. (Staff photo - Ellis Cuevas)

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION - The Hinds Jr.-College Hi-Steppers will give two performances Saturday, July 8, at silver anniversary celebration of the Mississippi Air Guard at its base at Thompson Airport, Jackson. The event, which includes the world famous Confederate Air Force, sky divers, a USAF band and other attractions is being billed as the largest peacetime military event in the history of the state.

MAYOR SIGNS FOR POLICE CAR - Mayor Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis signs papers for new patrol car for the city to be purchased on a 50-50 basis with the Governor's Highway Program. Michael Haas, left, county co-ordinator for the governor's office; Chester Blalock, director of the Governor's Highway Safety Program; and Les Nucombe, executive director, Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District witness the mayor's signing. Haas said Bay St. Louis will also receive a survey on traffic control signs through the governor's program. Blalock said Mississippi received $500,000 from the Federal Government for being the 10th safest state in the Union. Only 15 police cars will be purchased in Mississippi, with Hancock County receiving a total of four. (Staff photo - Ellis Cuevas)

State diamond men in top fifty

Finishing high in several national categories, the Mississippi State 1978 baseball team is ranked within the top 50 in the country in five statistical headings.

After going 38-18 and achieving a national ranking of 14th in the final "Collegiate Baseball" Poll, Coach Ron Polk's crew was rated 29th in team scoring this spring with an average of 7.5 runs per game.

The 1977 MSU team, which averaged 3 run more than this year's edition, tied for 13th nationally. It appears as if the batters had the upper hand in '78, though, since the top 15 teams in Division I all averaged above eight runs per game.

State's .558 fielding percentage was the 30th-best in the country after the team handled a record 202 chances and made only 86 miscues. The '78 Bulldogs also turned Every year, Americans ship over $15 billion worth of goods. Small items under two pounds can be shipped overnight by Federal Express almost anywhere in the country for $12.50 in special envelope made of "Tyvek" spunbonded olefin. This special material is used because it's lightweight.

over a record 61 double plays, eight off Miami's national record of 69 twin-killings in 1974.

Recent Boston Red Sox signee Del Bender of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., figured in the tip 50 in a pair of statistics.

His 62 runs-batted-in for 56 games came at a rate of 1.11 per contest to rate 37th in the country. Bender also poled 17 home runs, both a school and Southeastern Conference mark, to manage a homer percentage of .304.

In other words, the 6-0, 195-pound graduate smacked three clouts for every 10 games played and stood 41st in Division with this percentage.

After establishing Southeastern Conference standards for runs scored with 419, for hits with 537, and for runs-batted-in with 348, the '78 bunch also claims credit for an unrecorded SEC milestone.

Mississippi State runners were caught attempting to steal only 24 times in a record (MSU) 162 tries for a phenomenal percentage of .852.

Bender led the club with 21 SB's in 23 attempts as the Bulldogs had the third-highest total number of swipes by a team in league annals. Vanderbilt set the current SEC mark with 154 stolen bases in 1974.

Polk and assistant coach Mark Johnson have already added nine players to the ranks of a team depleted by the loss of 10 seniors from the 1978 outfit, whose 56 games are the most played in a single season at MSU.

CAR PERFORMANCE TIPS FROM THE PROS

by A. J. Foyt

How To Change Your Shock Absorbers

I can buy racing shocks for my car for about $200 each, but for street driving, you can purchase very serviceable shock absorbers for much less at your local auto store.

Although many amateur mechanics feel that changing shocks is a pretty heavy scene, more and more of them are doing it. It's not an impossible task. The job of shock absorbers is to dampen the movements of the springs, thus giving your car a stability when you hit bumps or potholes, or when you are cornering.

A. J. Foyt

There are a number of ways to install shocks, depending on the make of car. The tops of shocks have various methods of attachment, such as double-curved plate, post-type mounts and eyelets, or through-bolt eyelets. You'll automatically end up with the right shock absorber when you give the make and year of your car at your local auto store.

To change shocks, all you need are the shock absorbers and some oil, plus quality tools which include a jack to raise the car, jack stands for extra safety, socket and ratchet wrench set, box-end and adjustable wrench, and perhaps a hammer and punch to remove tough bolts. Of course, wheel blocks are necessary when you jack up the car. Always remember that you can't do the job without quality tools.

To change shocks on the rear axle of your car, jack up the rear of the car. Then, remove the fasteners from the top of the shock with your box-end or socket wrench, noting the position of the washers and retainers for re-assembly. Use your hammer and punch for bolts when necessary. Next, remove the fasteners from the bottom of the shock with the same tools. If your car has a lower retaining plate on the rear axle housing, remove the plate with your socket and ratchet wrench. Then, take out the shock absorber.

To install the new shock, attach the top first. Push or pull the shock to align the bottom mount with the hole or plate on the rear axle. Once aligned, fasten it.

Most front end shock absorbers can be reached by raising the hood. Sometimes it may be hidden by a shield attached to the fender well. After locating the shock, use a wrench to loosen the top. Apply a small wrench to the projection on the tip of the mounting post to keep the actuating rod from turning as you remove the fastener. With this done, block the rear wheels and jack up the front end. Remove the fasteners from the bottom of the shock. Now, it is ready to remove and replace.

In replacement, attach the bottom fasteners first. Then you can lower the car and attach the top fasteners through the hood opening. You'll find that replacing the shocks isn't that big a deal. It'll give you a feeling of confidence as a mechanic, plus a much smoother ride the next time you're on the highway.

Strict rules governing electrical toys upheld

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) has refused to change existing safety regulations for electrical toys by denying a petition from the National Science Industries, Ltd., Far Rockaway, N.Y., to amend the testing of stalled toy motors and the maximum temperatures internal parts and surfaces can reach.

These safety rules, administered by CPSC since 1973, are intended to protect children from the harm of burns, electric shock and fires from electrically operated toys.

Calling testing provisions for stalled motors in toys "ambiguous," the company, a manufacturer and distributor of children's electric hobby products, asked for tests on stalled motors only if "normal use and reasonable foreseeable damage or abuse" might cause them to stop.

The Commission believes that establishing that a moving part associated with the motor can be touched by a child is reasonable justification for determining that a toy shall be subjected to stalled motor testing.

CPSC currently tests electric toys with the motor stalled if any motor parts are accessible with a rod one-quarter inch in diameter. The rationale for this requirement is prevention of contact burns from hot surfaces and of shock and fire hazards from overheated electrical parts.

Stalled motors can cause internal parts to overheat, possibly resulting in the breakdown of insulation and exposure of a child to electrical shock or fire.

The Commission clarified that the toy safety rule spells out two separate sets of temperature limitations - one for internal parts and another for accessible motor surfaces - which cannot be exceeded during testing.

These restrictions were established to prevent contact burns from outside toy surfaces and to eliminate electrocution or fire hazards from overheating internal components.

Based on today's action, the Commission will soon publish in the Federal Register a clarification of the stalled motor testing requirements and maximum temperature limits.

Amateur radio competitions

includes locals

The Mississippi Coast Amateur Radio Association will participate in National Field Day competitions Saturday and Sunday.

Amateur radio equipment will be set up in four emergency stations at Jim Hill Park on Switzer road in Gulfport.

Simulated emergency messages will be sent and received for 24 consecutive hours from 1 p.m. Saturday until 1 p.m. Sunday.

Persons interested in emergency preparedness and communications are invited to visit the operation, according to Al Williams of Bay St. Louis, association member.

23. Cards of Thank

The purpose of writing this card of thanks is to thank all the many people who were so kind to me after my automobile accident on the morning of June 12, 1978. I would like to thank Tammy Necaise and Joe Bye for the help they rendered immediately after the accident. Special thanks also go to my co workers at Stuckey's for their thoughtfulness. Thanks to Mr. Harold Stiglet, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garcia, and Mrs. Nina Garcia for their help and comfort in the hours following the accident. Also thanks to Mr. Harris Boudreaux of the Bay St. Louis Police Department and son Jerome for their help.

Many special thanks again go to Tammy Necaise and Ann Verdon and also to Pastor Charles E. Clark for the comfort and support they gave to me during my appearance in city court.

My heartfelt appreciation goes out to my family and many friends for their prayers which helped me through this troublesome time. Without your help and prayers it would have been difficult, if not impossible, to cope with such a tragedy as this.

In closing, I would also like to thank my many friends and neighbors who either called or inquired about my well being. All of your thoughtfulness has been greatly appreciated.

May God bless each and everyone of you.

Charlotte Ann Tartavouille

Courtney, Braddy shine in Waveland weekend

Waveland American Legion claimed three wins in five games, including two double-headers, in action over a busy weekend on the road.

The Waveland team opened the weekend with a five run first inning Friday against Gulfport's American Legion team. The five scores were the deciding factor in the 6-1 victory.

Keith Courtney notched the first run from the top of the batting order. He led off with a single and reached second on a base hit by Robbie Cox. A passed ball helped Courtney reach third and he slid into home when the catcher dropped the ball on Timmy Ladner's third strike.

Cox came home on a single by Freddy Keel, who stole second but was thrown out at third. Cary Meitzler doubled and scored just ahead of Willie Braddy on a home run hit. Courtney and Meitzler led hitting for Waveland, with Meitzler going two-for-four including a double, and Courtney two-for-five.

Frank Henry was the winning pitcher, throwing a three-hitter. He struck out 10 and walked one over nine innings.

Waveland edged out Slidell in the opener of Saturday's double header, 10-9 with Courtney and Braddy powering the win with three-for-four hitting.

Cox and Kerry Corr backed them up with two hits each. Gary Sotak was the winning pitcher.

Timmy Ladner took the mound for the second game which Slidell took, 9-7. Cox led hitting with three hits in four at-bats.

Braddy pounded out two pairs of home-runs as Waveland split a set with Biloxi Sunday. Biloxi scored one run in the bottom of the twelfth to break up a tie-ball game for the win, after catching up to Waveland with four runs in the bottom of the ninth to send the game into extra innings.

Frank Henry, relieving starter Wayne Best in the eleventh, was on the mound for the loss.

Braddy racked up seven RBI in the second game, including a grand slam homer in the top of the first to give Waveland an early edge. Anthony Patterson pitched the win.

Braddy and Cox were three-for-three in the night-cap, with Keel and Hubbell each getting one hit.

The Waveland team is 2-4 in the district and 6-7 overall.

Medical Insurance Premium to Increase

Starting with July 1978, the basic premium for the medical insurance part of Medicare will increase to $8.20 a month, up from the $7.70 it has been since July 1977, a social security spokesperson said today.

People who pay the premium directly will notice the increase in their bills. But people who have the premium deducted from their social security check probably will not notice the increase because of the much larger increase in their social security check as a result of the cost of living increase that goes into effect with July checks.

Some people pay a higher amount than the basic premium. This is because there was a period of 12 months or more that they were eligible for medical insurance but were not enrolled for this protection. The increase in the basic premium amounts to 10 percent for each such 12-month period.

Even with this slight increase, medical insurance represents a real buy, the representative said. This is because the people pay only about 30 percent of the cost while the Federal Government pays the remaining 70 percent from general revenues.

VA News

Q — If I should elect to have my GI insurance dividends held on deposit or credit, what amount of interest will they earn?

A — The current rate of interest for WWI USGLI insurance is five and one-quarter percent annually. For WWII NSLI and Korea VSLI, the interest rate is five and one-half percent annually.

Q — Can my wife use my educational assistance benefits?

A — A spouse cannot use the veteran's GI Bill educational benefits. A veteran's spouse would be entitled to educational assistance through the VA if the veteran became permanently and totally disabled due to service-connected disability.

Q — I have a service-connected disability which makes me eligible for an automobile grant. However, I do not have a driver's license. How may I obtain a license?

A — Driver training will be provided, directly or by contract, through special driver training courses at designated VA health care facilities. For additional information, contact the nearest VA regional office.

Hancock rice farm flooded by 1,880-foot artesian well

ARTESIAN SHOWER - Hot artesian well water reaching the surface at 95 degrees not only grows rice on the Lockhart farm in Hancock County, but also catfish. High pressure water from the well, although piped hundreds of feet from the well head, is never in need of support pumping.

RICE FARMING IN HANCOCK COUNTY - Resembling long green snakes, these meandering lines are actually levees set off by irrigation ditches. Both levees and irrigation ditches are essential to rice growing.

By DEE KACHLER
The Texas Flat Road, which runs from Hwy. 603 at the Jourdan River to site of the Army's ammunition plant, provides sole access to McLeod Park and is the location of the only rice farms in Hancock County.

Rice farming has continued periodically for the past 30 years on the L. L. Fletcher Plantation, complimented more recently by an additional 160 acres cultivated in rice by Ray and Randy Lockhart.

The Lockhart's are from an ancestral rice growing family in Suttgart, Ark., but until this year the 1,400 acre Lockhart farm in Hancock County only grew soybeans and catfish.

Fletcher's father was a Louisiana rice farmer.

"Rice is a profitable crop," Fletcher said, "but not many people grow it because it's too specialized."

"The Lockhart's have a great advantage in the rice business because of their artesian well," said Fletcher whose well must be pumped.

The artesian well he referred to has been at its present location for over 10 years - costing $48,000, it is 1,880 feet deep and provides up to 65 pounds of pressure to keep the rice fields flooded.

Rice crops, which cannot survive without being constantly flooded with water, "still can't handle all the water this well is capable of producing," said Ray Lockhart, "it puts out so much water that we keep it almost shut down in order to control the pressure."

Geothermal energy from deep in the earth's crust, as well as the large amount of sulfur present in the area, causes the water to be from 95-105 degrees when it leaves the well, he explained. "On hot days the water even causes rice plants to scorch," Lockhart said.

The "specialization" in rice growing includes the building of levees which constantly keep the field under irrigation. "When one of these irrigation ditches dries up, so does the rice," Lockhart said.

"Economic yield for rice crops is about $300 per acre gross," said Fletcher who estimates "getting about 20 to 30 barrels per acre, we should net $150 on the acre."

Containing 21 percent moisture, the rice takes three weeks to dry after it is harvested. After a drying period, the rice then reaches market through a broker who will buy the farmer's dried crops.

"Most of our rice goes to Crowley, Louisiana," Fletcher said.

All fertilizers and insecticides are applied by airplane at both plantations. Liquid fertilizer is used since it is better distributed through the water-saturated growth. But, "the irrigation water is beneficial also for keeping weeds and insects at a minimum," Fletcher said.

"The only problem with growing rice on Texas Flat Road - is Texas Flat Road, both farmers strongly insisted.

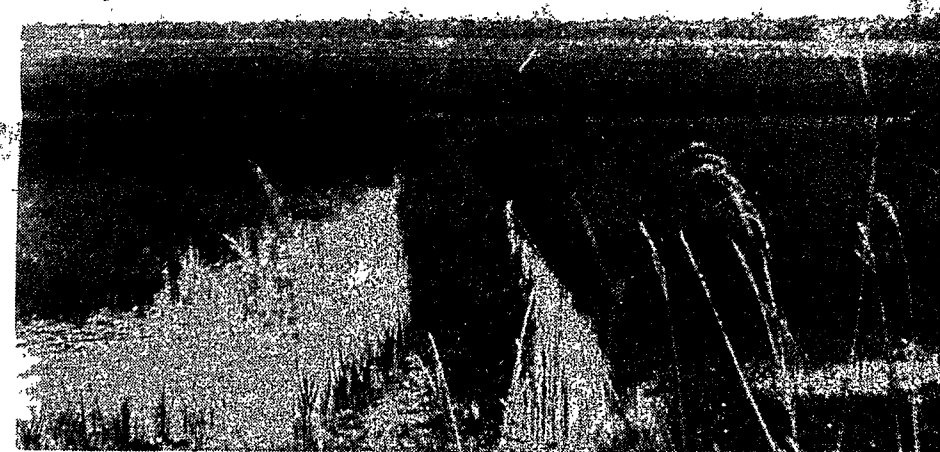

"When it rains, we can't get out with all the potholes and when it's dry, the dust is unbearable," they complained.

NATURAL OCCURENCE - This 1880 foot-deep artesian well, located on Texas Flat Road near Jourdan River, can produce up to 65 pounds of natural pressure. Even when pressure is regulated to its slowest, as shown here, the well easily supplies two commercial catfish ponds and floods 160 acres of rice crops.

ACRES OF RICE - Operated by Ray and Randy Lockhart, 160-acre farm is the largest of two rice plantations in Hancock County. The artesian well is essential, since rice cannot survive without constant flooding. These are 130-day crops - ready for harvest July 25.

IRRIGATION LEVEES - Prominent features on both of the rice farms in Hancock County these levees provide the only means for a rice farmer to walk through and check his crops.

Former Hancock Vo-Tech director to head Lamar Center in Purvis

James Sones, formerly director of the Pearl River Junior College Vo-Tech Center at Stennis Field in Hancock County, has been named director of a new PRC Vo-Tech Center in Purvis.

PRC's Board of Trustees, at its June meeting, approved Sones' appointment.

The Lamar County Vo-Tech director will begin his new duties along with other faculty members at the center when it is completed in August. Also at the June meeting, the board approved the 1978-79 operational budget, hired 10 new instructors and passed a resolution posthumously commending J. J. Holcomb for faithful service as a member of the board.

The resolution is to be presented to Mrs. Jewel J. Holcomb of Picayune in appreciation of her husband's service as a member of the Pearl River Board of Trustees from October 1973, until his death in June of this year.

College suicide to be considered on METV

A new public television documentary reports on the problem of suicide among college students at 9 p.m., Tuesday on the Mississippi ETV Network.

The program indicates that the suicide rate among the college age is increasing and shows how universities are dealing with student stress and depression.

"College Can Be Killing" urges parents to look at the emotional support system of prospective schools before making a decision on which schools their sons or daughters should attend.

The American College Health Association (ACHA) has indicated that many college students, perhaps 10 to 15 percent, need some professional assistance each year because of emotional difficulties.

These difficulties range from pressures in the academic community, such as anxiety about grades and final exams, the fear of failure, personal isolation and alienation, concern about admission to graduate and professional schools, to concern about employment and long-range goals.

"Mr. Holcomb gave of his time and talents unselfishly and at all times witnessed deep interest in the development of this college and his fellowman," President Marvin R. White said.

Holcomb served as a teacher, administrator and superintendent of education in Pearl River County.

He was also director of the Picayune YMCA for 27 years, 1944 to 1970.

He was an active member and president of several civic clubs and organizations in the Picayune area.

In other actions an operational budget of $3,643,715 was approved for the coming school session. Ten new instructors were employed by the board. Seven are faculty members at the new Pearl River College Technical Center in Purvis and three will be employed at the Poplarville campus.

In addition to Sones, other Purvis instructors include Ralph Stinson, Purvis, electricity; William Salter, Lumberton, builders trade; Robert Hammond, Poplarville, drafting; Judy Britt, Hattiesburg, business education; Thomas Johnston, Purvis, metal trades and Billy Blackwell, Lumberton, auto mechanics.

New faculty members at the Poplarville campus will include Bobby Davis, Hattiesburg, business education; Marcia Rachel, Petal, nursing instructor; and Rebecca Askew, Hattiesburg, academic counselor and director of the String of Pearls.

A request for progress payment for the Lamar County Center was approved in the amount of $60,612 to the Hanberry Construction Company for work completed on the center.

A similar request for $909 for Landry & Landry, architects of the project, was also approved.

In final action, the board approved the claim docket of expenditures in the amount of $121,581 for May.

J. Q. Frierson of Poplarville is chairman of the board and Mack Avery of Purvis is vice-chairman. Terry Smith, superintendent of education for Pearl River County, is secretary.

VICA CHARTER MEMBERS - Pearl River Junior College's Hancock County Vocational Technical Center's VICA club has received its charter as a full-fledged member of the Vocational Industrial Club of America. The organization is made up of junior and senior high school students from Bay High, Hancock North Central and St. Stanislaus. This year's club members are, front from left, Tommy Marsh, president, Bay

LADIES SHRIMP TOO - The Tommy and Chris runs up Bayou Cadet early Monday morning with lady deckhands aboard. All boats in the bayou were out waiting for the noon opening or wrapping up last minute details at the docks. (Staff photo - Ellis Cuevas)

ALL SIZE BOATS - There were hundreds of boats of all sizes after the shrimp on Monday in Mississippi Waters. This boat hurries out of Bayou Cadet about 11:15 a.m. for the noon opening of the 1978 season. (Staff photo - Ellis Cuevas)

Host families sought for exchange students

By SHARON WALLS
Opportunities still exist for Hancock area families to host a young student from another country next school year as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scianna, of Bay St. Louis and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Klein, of Waveland did this past year. The Sciannas hosted 18-year-old Marie (Pia) Hurtado of Santiago, Chile, while the Kleins were the host family of Ninon Fonseca, 7, from Salvador Bahia, Brazil, during their six-months stay in the United States. The two exchange students, like some 3,700 teenagers who will be arriving in the United States from 26 foreign countries later this summer, had opportunities to take part in many activities typical of day-to-day life in this area including attending high school at Bay High, and participating in the Hancock Gumbo Festival.

Both the students and their host families have the opportunity to deepen their comprehension of, and respect for, other peoples and cultures. "In one sense there is no 'typical' host family; they are of all different backgrounds, family sizes, and income levels," comments Linda Crill, Regional Director for Youth for Understanding in this area. "Like the students themselves, each host family has unique interests and things they like to do."

Host families provide room and board and the same guidance they would give to their own children. Anyone interested in the host family experience, or in the opportunities for American students to go abroad under the Youth for Understanding program, contact Crill at 3501 Newark St. N.W., Washington, D. C. 20016, or telephone: (202) 966-6808.

Smelley joined United at time meetings are held; and a short description of the organization. Ms. Benigno said information should be called in to the Chamber offices at 467-9048, or mailed to Box 103, Bay St. Louis, 39520 by July 1.

GCRL courses open for 2nd summer term

Openings in marine research courses at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, Ocean Springs, are available for the second summer term beginning July 10.

Dormitory space is available on the laboratory grounds, according to Dr. David W. Cook, registrar. Prospective students should contact Dr. Cook at the laboratory, or call 875-2244 ext. 201.

Courses are: Marine Microbiology, July 10-August 11, five semester hours; Introduction to Marine Zoology, July 10-August 4, four semester hours; Marine Vertebrate Zoology, and Ichthyology, July 10-August 11, five semester hours; Marine Botany, July 10-August 11, five semester hours; and Marine Aquaculture, July 10-August 18, six semester hours.

Chamber seeks group data to update list

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is seeking information from organizations in the county to be included in a revised listing of the groups.

When completed, this listing will be sent out to hundreds of people interested in Hancock County for a variety of reasons," said Jerry Benigno, chamber manager.

"In order to present a true picture of our community, the Chamber is asking local fraternal, professional, civic, volunteer health, political, social, dramatic, governmental and personal improvement organizations to apprise the Chamber of pertinent information.

Pertinent data includes group name; president's name; address; home number; when, where and at what time meetings are held; and a short description of the organization.

Ms. Benigno said information should be called in to the Chamber offices at 467-9048, or mailed to Box 103, Bay St. Louis, 39520 by July 1.

United Gas names chief

William F. (Bill) Smelley and Charles L. Gilmore, formerly division sales managers for United Gas Pipe Line Company, have been appointed regional sales managers, with expanded territorial responsibility.

Gilmore, formerly division sales manager at Jackson, now is responsible for the Mississippi, Alabama and Florida region.

Gilmore joined the company in 1959 in the accounting department at Jackson. He has held various positions in the Sales Department, including sales representative, advanced sales representative and senior sales representative.

He was named to his previous position in January, 1977.

United Gas Pipe Line Company is the interstate gas transmission subsidiary of United Energy Resources, Inc., and supplies of the Bay St. Louis and Waveland natural gas systems.

Smelley, formerly division sales manager for the Shreveport, La. division, now is responsible for the Texas and Louisiana region, including the New Orleans sales area.

Smelley joined United at Shreveport in 1956 in the personnel department. He also has held positions in the office services and sales departments. He was named to his previous position in June, 1976.

Coast Symphony Guild tells committee heads

The June meeting of the Gulf Coast Symphony Guild was hosted by Mrs. Richard Buckley, assisted by Mrs. Harrell Pace, Mrs. Lester R. Terrell, and Mrs. Paul Minor.

Mrs. R. William Westfall, the new chairman of the Symphony Shop, is Mrs. R.D. Portwood, assisted by Mrs. John Hughes, Pass Christian; Mrs. John Worth, Mrs. Hall Robinson and Miss Nassar, Biloxi; and Mrs. Wallace E. Whitson, Ocean Springs. Mrs. Karl F. Eickemeyer is publicity and advertising chairman.

Mrs. Portwood announced that the acquisitions committee will be stocking the Shop with higher quality clothing, with the emphasis on evening gowns and costumes, and designer-label clothing.

All donations to the Symphony Shop are now tax-deductible, and her committee, who represent different areas of the Coast, will all accept items.

Sales are picking up at the Shop, and more consignments and donations are coming in, she reported.

The new chairman of the Gulf Coast Symphony Orchestra, Larry Voas, was introduced, and reported to the Guild members on the orchestra budget and financial planning for the 1978-79 season. He pointed out that season memberships provide about two-fifths of the money that is required for a successful season, and that Guild members traditionally perform the function of "making music by selling tickets".

His goal is 1,000 memberships by August 1, but he reminded Guild members that there will have to be a cut-off because of seating limitations. Season memberships will now be available through any Guild member.

The group's next meeting will be on Wednesday, July 5 at 10 a.m. at the new Biloxi Library and Cultural Center.

Pass, DeLisle Summer pre-school opens July 10

A summer pre-school program conducted by the Pass Christian School District will begin on Monday, July 10.

The program will operate through Friday, August 11.

Classes will be held in the DeLisle Elementary School and the Pass Christian Elementary School, beginning daily at 8 p.m. and ending at noon.

Daily transportation and a mid-day snack will be provided.

The final registration dates for the program will be Thursday, July 6, from 8 a.m. to noon.

Registration will be held at the DeLisle Elementary School and the Pass Christian Elementary School.

For further information contact George T. Watson, assistant superintendent of schools at 452-7271.

Stennis sponsors bills aiding local foresters

Senator John C. Stennis said this week three forestry bills benefiting Hancock County woodlands for many years to come have cleared Congress and will be sent to the President to be signed into law.

Stennis said one of the bills, which he introduced last year as cosponsor with the late Senator Hubert Humphrey, will broaden authority for forestry research.

He said additional research authorized by the bill will enable forestry growers to achieve higher levels of productivity which are possible under modern forestry practices.

The bill makes no changes in the McIntire-Stennis Cooperative Forest Research Act of 1962, which authorizes cost sharing in forestry research at the graduate level in state colleges and universities.

A second bill consolidates programs dealing with cooperative forestry assistance to states and to private forest owners.

One of the statutes incorporated in the bill is the Forestry Incentives program which Stennis sponsored in 1973.

The Forestry Incentive program provides technical assistance and cost sharing to improve timber production on private nonindustrial forest lands.

"The Federal Forestry Incentives program has been extremely successful in Mississippi, where it is supplemented by an excellent State program," Stennis said.

"This new bill gives full and permanent status to Forestry Incentives, which was originally considered a pilot program."

The third bill which will be sent to the President authorizes a separately funded and expanded ex-

Library tells winners in stuffed pet show

The children's room at City-County Library recently was filled with animals - all stuffed and sitting on shelves as entries in the summer reading program's stuffed animal show.

Ribbons were awarded in many categories. The "shortest" entry was a duck belonging to Kevin Edwards. Peter Merrifield's teddy bear was the "smallest" entry. "Biggest" honors went to Martin Pernicaro's shaggy dog and "longest" honors went to Christ Merrifield's snake. The "tallest" award was received by Jackie Dorian's rabbit.

The "most famous" entry was Snoopy who was entered by Angie Davis. Another famous entry was Oscar from Sesame Street. He belongs to Jennifer Dagnel and received an award for being the "grouchiest."

The "slowest" entry was Alex Vinot's seal which performed a balancing act during the entire show.

There were two entries upon which the judges had no trouble deciding. Nicky Shubert's tiger, was the "most ferocious" and Danny Duplantis' gorilla was the "ugliest."

A special "most inseparable" award was given to Robin Duplantis' two hugging mice.

Jean Larroux's pet took honors as being the "oldest" while Melissa Hecker's pet was the "most loved."

Robert Pino's purple and gold lion was the "most colorful" animal and Mark Carter's patchwork dog was the "smoothest" stuffed animal.

Other awards and the pet owners receiving them were Alan Aliston, prettiest; Jenie Lamere, fuzziest; Cheryl Campbell, happiest; Hayden Larroux, best dressed; Patty Weems, saddest; Georgiano Dagnal, shaggiest; Nicole Dagnel, cutest; and Daniel Dorian, most unusual.

The stuffed pet show was just one of many activities being held at City-County Library during the summer reading program.

All children in Hancock County are invited to attend programs on Tuesdays at 2:30 p.m. and Thursdays at 10:30 a.m.

Children do not have to be registered in the program in order to attend the activities. For more information, call the library at 467-5282.

Small business loans almost $14 million

Figures released by the Small Business Assistance Department (SBAD) of the Mississippi Agricultural & Industrial Board show that loans totaling over $13.5 million have been granted to small businesses across Mississippi.

E. P. Mitcham, SBAD manager, said, "Since the program's inception in 1972, we have had more than 4,000 inquiries about loans and have mailed out over 785 applications for assistance."

He said, "Over 525 applications for loans have been approved, to date, creating approximately 1,525 new jobs for Mississippians."

The SBAD works through local banks in making loans. The SBAD offers banks a 75 percent guaranty that enables them to make loans that would otherwise not be possible.

The maximum amount for a loan is $50,000 for a period of up to ten years. Interest is computed at the bank's current rate plus a guaranty fee of one percent on the guaranteed portion.

To qualify for a loan, the applicant must have been rejected by at least two lenders for the same loan, be of good character, demonstrate ability to operate a business successfully, show ability to repay the loan, and have an equity in the business no matter how small.

For further information, contact the Small Business Assistance Department, Box 849, Jackson 39205.

SIT ON A MASTERPIECE?

Take a walk through your local museum next time you decide to add a piece of furniture to your house or apartment. It can inspire fresh ideas for using the art and styles of the past to add elegance to today's lifestyles. Fine quality reproductions of the best period pieces are widely available in a great variety of styles and periods for virtually unlimited decorating choices. And, these quality reproductions are easy to care for, will give years of service and finally become treasured antiques.

You can have whole period rooms or use a few magnificent pieces as historical art accents in a modern setting. One beautifully carved ornate piece, for instance, would be a wonderful addition to the clean lines of a contemporary room. A gate-leg table, modeled after the 17th century English original, could live happily in a modern setting and, at the same time, add extra dining facilities to a small room.

In a bedroom, perhaps a canopy bed-to-sleep-in (and one manufacturer is even making four poster waterbeds), or a lovely 18th century Queen Anne Highboy might hold necessities. Armchairs are another popular favorite from days past which today are being used all over the house, regardless of decor. And why not? They hold just about everything that needs a home, adding beautiful visual interest to function at the same time.

After style choices have been determined according to personal taste and lifestyle, you might look again to museums for advice on choosing and caring for your own masterpieces. First, you decide if the new piece will fit into the existing scheme. Once that is settled, museums are careful to determine the quality of each addition. And so should you. Luckily, that's easy, since most, if not all, fine reproductions are made of hardwood. The quality characteristics of the material are inherent, so it's the actual craftsmanship of each piece that should be given attention. It is easily done. A good look at the general construction of a piece you are considering will reveal its quality. And the Hardwood Institute's free Furniture Shopper's Checklist will tell you how to check each piece you are considering. Just send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope: Linda Forrest, The Hardwood Institute, 230 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017. I'll be glad to send you one.

Maintaining your masterpiece is a snap because hardwood furniture will last for generations with only regular dusting and semi-annual waxing. So next time you go shopping, consider sitting on your own masterpiece!

keeping you in touch

By F. M. Kyle, Jr.
Gulf Coast District Manager

If you're among the many Mississippians who will be vacationing this summer, why not use your telephone to make your plans? With the one-minute rate for long distance calls dialed the One-Plus way, it's easy and inexpensive to call ahead for reservations and travel information.

And when you dial One-Plus calls nights from 11 p.m. until 8 a.m. and on weekends from 11 p.m. Friday till 5 p.m. Sunday, you save 60 percent over 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekday rates.

Or, dial your One-Plus calls evenings, Sunday through Friday from 5 p.m. till 11 p.m. and save 35 percent over weekday rates.

So remember, vacation planning is a snap - with long distance. Plan ahead by phone for recreational attractions, food, lodging or campsites, and visits with friends.

And whether you'll be vacationing in Mississippi or going to other states, have a safe and happy trip.

One-Plus rates do not apply to Zero-Plus dialed calls, operator-handled calls, coin telephone calls, or calls from a hotel or motel.

Summer is the season when much important outdoor work must be done. It is also the time when many underground cables are cut and damaged.

In case of fire, serious illness or some other emergency, a cut or damaged cable can be a serious problem or at best it can be very inconvenient to telephone subscribers. This problem can be avoided by calling 388-5356 collect and assistance will be provided in locating underground cables before digging is begun and before damage is done.

Prominent warning signs mark the location of many underground cables, but when in doubt call before digging.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Senior Citizens Center proudly presents Iesha and her Arabian Delights, Darlene Tasya Khara and Basheba Oriental Dancers, who will perform for the Seniors Birthday Party, at American Legion Post No. 77, Coleman Avenue, Waveland, at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Iesha began her study of Middle Eastern dancing in 1974 while stationed in Alaska with her husband. Her teachers were skilled in different facets of the dance, so she is able to present a varied program.

She is continually learning new aspects of the dance by attending workshops sponsored by top professionals in this country.

She teaches for the Biloxi Department of Parks and Recreation and on Keesler Air Force Base. In addition, she manages her professional dance troupe which has appeared at the Biloxi Hilton and Sheraton.

Words cannot express the appreciation we have for Iesha and her Arabian Delights Troupe donating their services as a labor of love with no remuneration, just like all of the entertainers who have performed at our birthday parties for the past five months.

There will also be a special door-prize, and birthday prize. Refreshments of cold drinks and home made cakes will be served by our faithful RSVP Volunteers.

BUS EXCURSION

All of the Seniors from our Day Care Center enjoyed a bus excursion to New Orleans on Monday, June 19. They left the Center on Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis around 10 a.m. accompanied by Program Specialist Donnell Taylor, and Jim Hoda, recreation and transportation director.

Arriving in New Orleans East, they were treated to lunch at Morrison's Cafeteria in Lake Forrest Shopping Mall.

After lunch, they went to visit the Seniors at the Carrollton Hollygrove Senior Citizens Community Center, where they were entertained by the Seniors of that Center.

After an informative talk on the progress of workshops, they departed for Bay St. Louis, happy to arrive back home. Everyone had a good time, but like all of us after a trip they exclaimed, "Be It Ever So Humble, There's No Place Like Home!"

PATRIOTIC DAY

Pam and Debbie informed us that they will hold a Patriotic Day Celebration on Friday June 30th, at 12:30 p.m. They invite all Seniors from Hancock County to participate in this program with a Community song-fest of patriotic tunes with yours truly leading the singing accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ruby Life.

Plan to have lunch with us at the Center. Let's make this a real "Yankee Doodle Day." Please call Pam Jones or Debbie Yarbough at 467-9292 for reservations a couple of days in advance.

HERE AND THERE

An unusual party was held at the home of Major and Mrs. Louis White of Bay St. Louis. It was the 50th Golden Friendship Party.

All guests were friends of the Whites' for 50 years and their families, and neighbors. The event was celebrated with a covered-dish dinner being brought by those invited, and a long newsy chat among all on the events of the past 50 years.

Honored guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Winston A.

The Arabian Delights

Vaz and daughter Kim Marie Vaz of New Orleans; Mrs. Amelidia O. J. Rochon, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lion Jr., daughters Amelidia III, Pauline Lion; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sigur, daughter Jacinta, son Dennis; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rochon Sr., daughter Sabrina, and son Albert Jr., Arlene and Lisa St. Cyr.

Philip J. Bertram Jr., Stacey Labat; Mrs. Rita Broyard, daughters Jonie and Jennifer; Mrs. Edna P. Henderson of South Bend, Indiana, who was the houseguest of the Whites; Mrs. Thelma J. Pugh of Mobile, Ala.; Mr. James McCarter, Mrs. Nettie Jackson, and Stella Stafford.

Attending from Bay St. Louis were Mr. and Mrs. James Pollard; Mrs. Aulalia S. Hall, and sister Mrs. Genevieve Daniels; Misses Portia and Veronica Labat; Mrs. Edna F. Wright of New Orleans, sister of Chief and Mrs. Douglas Williams.

Mrs. Beatrice P. Pinkney of Chicago, Illinois was unable to attend because of her brother's illness. Everyone enjoyed the dinner and reminiscing.

With her guests contentedly looking forward to the 51st, Mrs. White breathed a quiet sigh of happiness that it all took place.

BREAVEMENT

We were sorry to hear that Mr. Albert Jones, one of our Day Care Seniors who participated in all of our programs, passed away.

He was an avid checker player and a faithful member of the "Singing Seniors," who sang Gospel Hymns ever Wednesday at the Gulf View Haven Rest Home.

Our condolences to his family and friends. Albert will be missed by all.

Storm insurance said vital to hurricane preparedness

The Insurance Information
Institute reminds Hancock County residents that a review of home insurance should also be on any list of hurricane preparations. Proper and adequate insurance can help minimize losses should a hurricane strike, the I.I.I. noted.

The National Hurricane Center says experience of the past 30 years show an average of three named storms touch the United States each season, with two of those usually hurricanes.

That the number of storms in recent years has been below average increases the likelihood this year that another big hurricane will blow in.

A homeowners policy will pay for losses caused by the winds of a hurricane, but most policies do not pay for flood waters.

Food stamp regulations
abate fraud

Regulations are in effect
providing that food stamp recipients whose eligibility is up for renewal, but who are suspected of fraud, shall be given the right to a hearing prior to disqualification for fraud if they satisfy all other food stamp eligibility criteria,
according to the U.S.
Department of Agriculture.

The interim regulations implement nationwide the ruling of a U.S. District Court in Mississippi in the case of Williams v. Butz.

Under the interim policy, recipients failing to request a hearing may be terminated immediately.

Those who do request a hearing will be disqualified if the hearing official concurs in the finding of fraud.

These regulations will be in effect until new food stamp legislation is implemented this year, the department said.

The new legislation contains a series of provisions governing fraud
disqualification procedures that are designed to increase fraud enforcement activities.

Abortion debate to be on METV

The next courtroom debate in Mississippi ETV's "Pro-Con" series will question whether the 1973 Supreme Court decision on abortion should stand.

"Pro-Con" can be seen at 7 p.m., Tuesday, June 27, on the Mississippi ETV. It will be rebroadcast at 12 noon,
Sunday, July 2.

Serving as counsel for the pro side will be Greenville attorney Frank Thackston.
One of his witnesses will be Bill Taylor, assistant professor of social work at the University of Mississippi.
Thackston's other witness has not been announced.

Opposing Thackston and his witnesses will be Biloxi attorney Gerald Blessey, who will serve as counsel for the con side. One of his witnesses will be the Rev. Elvin Sunds, associate pastor of Holy Family Catholic Church in Jackson. His other witness has not been announced.

The 1978 season of The University of Mississippi's
Summer Showcase begins
June 22-24 with performances of the musical comedy "110 in the Shade."

Residents of a low-lying area that could be flooded may want to purchase the limited flood insurance offered by the federal government.

Most homeowners policies have a replacement cost provision that says when a home owner carries an amount of insurance equal to at least 80 percent of the home's actual replacement cost, the policy will pay the total replacement cost of a full or a partial loss.

"Replacement cost" means what it would cost to rebuild or to repair a damaged home with like kind and quality materials and applies only to the home's structure. Contents are normally excluded.

If it would cost $50,000 to replace a home and it is insured for $40,000 (80 percent of $50,000), for a $2,000 covered loss the insurance company would pay $2,000 less any deductible.

If the same home is insured for only $20,000, however, the insurance company would pay only half the loss - $1,000 - or deduct an amount for depreciation from its payment. In either case, the homeowner would end up paying for a larger share of the loss.

The replacement cost of houses in Mississippi has been averaging more than $27 per square foot for homes of good construction and more than $20 per square foot for homes of average construction.

Insurance preparations should also include an inventory of contents of the house. If a home were to be destroyed in a hurricane, an inventory could speed the processing of the claim and could help insure all losses are listed.

An inventory should include value of each item when new,
with purchase receipts available.

Take pictures of items, such as jewelry, antiques or furniture, that would be hard to describe or to replace.

Store both inventory and pictures in a safe place away from home, such as a safe-deposit box.
